

Office of the Superintendent of Securities

Investor Warning

The Office of the Superintendent of Securities advises all individuals to exercise caution with respect to the following investment advertisement on Yahoo:

www.awesomepennystocks.com

Our office has been unable to substantiate the claims, the testimonials are “faceless”, the “free spots left” feature is a high pressure sales tactic that continuously repeats, the “Rated #1 picker AWARD” is anonymous, and there is no contact information provided. Although we cannot definitively say that it is an investment scam, the website contains many of the “red flags” of fraud.

The Office of the Superintendent of Securities recommends that you exercise caution and that you do not sign up for the free newsletter.
